STUKELEYS PARISH COUNCIL REPORT

The Stukeleys Parish Council met on Mon 9 April 2018 at 7.15pm at Little Stukeley Village Hall.

Parish Council discussed these Planning Consultations and made Planning Recommendations to HDC:

Proposal: Retrospective erection of a garage/store and stable block, Site Address: 9 Church Way Little Stukeley Huntingdon, Reference: 18/00455/HHFUL.

Recommend Approval because it sits comfortable within the village boundary. No detrimental effect to the street scene or local area.

Proposal: Amendment to application 1301037FUL for extension of C2 and change of C4, Site Address: Building 3051 Alconbury Airfield Ermine Street, Reference: 18/00477/S73.

PC agreed that no response to the above needed.

Proposal: Proposed small extension to front, Site Address: 4 Beech Avenue Great Stukeley Huntingdon, Reference: 18/00521/HHFUL.

Recommend Approval because it does not affect the street scene. No reason to object.

Parish Council is looking for a Volunteer to look after 2 Defibrillators in Little and Great Stukeley as Dr. Barrie G James has felt the need to resign. Please contact your Clerk for more information.

Please note that potholes can be reported directly to County Council via their online reporting system <https://highwaysreporting.cambridgeshire.gov.uk/>.

Parish Council is further considering the Neighbourhood Plan and would welcome any new members. If you wish to get involved, please contact your Clerk.

Parish Council receives CIL money which will be used to refurbish the Village Halls. Village Halls are now collecting the quotes and will approach PC. PC are also considering other projects.

Please note that Annual Parish Meeting/Assembly is set for Mon 21 May 2018, please submit your written reports to the Clerk. Looking forward to seeing you!

Local Elections 3rd May 2018

On the third of May this year the country will be casting its final vote at the polls before Brexit. But at local level is it Brexit or the pot holes that are more important? or the lack of lighting on our streets? or the high volume of speeding traffic through our villages?

On the third of May you have the opportunity not to think about who is governing our country, but who is actually going to make a difference to your local community.

This year the Stukeleys District has been reformed and no longer incorporates Alconbury. The new Stukeleys District will cover Stukeley Meadows, Great Stukeley, Little Stukeley and Alconbury Weald.

The other big change this year is that you actually get to have three District councillors, so in effect you cast three votes for which three councillors you think will make a difference.

Three votes, three councillors, three people to express your opinions in what happens to your community.

Two of our parish councillors Sally Smith and Shaun Burton who live in Little Stukeley and Great Stukeley respectively are running for district councillor this year. They are joined by Tom Sanderson who lives in Stukeley meadows and who has been an experienced councillor for many years.

This year you have the opportunity to vote for three of your neighbours and not just party representatives who live nowhere near your area, this year Stukeleys Matter.

Sally Smith & Shaun Burton

The Not-So-Secret Garden

Every year, Carrie opens the doors to her beautiful garden. Nestled in the heart of Cambridge, the garden offers visitors a chance to admire the plants, enjoy some cake - and support severely bullied and traumatised children. Having founded Red Balloon in 1996, Carrie believes passionately that children who are too frightened to go to school deserve to be given a second chance. Red Balloon Learner Centres are dotted around the country - including Cambridge - and aim to do just that. This year the garden opens on the 9th and 10th June, 11:00-17.00, at 49 New Square, Cambridge.

Thank You

Dear Villagers

On behalf of The Royal British Legion I would like to thank all the members of the public who supported this year's Poppy Appeal Coffee Morning held on 14th March.

With your generous support the total amount raised was £432.89 which would not have been possible without the help and support of all those who attended and volunteered to run the various stalls and kitchen, and also donated numerous items for the stalls.

Once again many thanks and I look forward to seeing you all next March 2019.

Yours sincerely

Update from Alconbury Weald

It remains a busy time at Alconbury Weald, with 2 or 3 families moving in each week across the first phase of development and continued progress on the Enterprise Zone.

Over the course of the next few weeks, work will finish on the second Incubator building for small businesses, which already has significant interest and we hope to be full by the Autumn. Just back from the Boulevard, work is nearing completion on the building for John Adams Leisure, and behind that IKO are working hard for a launch of their new manufacturing Headquarters building in the Summer.

With work continuing apace and more jobs being created both in construction and in the companies moving on site, Urban&Civic are stepping up their work on jobs and skills. Victoria Denny-Morley who started work for Urban&Civic in January to provide a full-time focus on the jobs and skills agenda, has been driving work forward with contractors on site, and with local partners. June will see Alconbury Weald take part in the national Festival of Learning, with a series of events on site to get people into learning across all areas of interest. June will also see the opening of the site's technical and vocational college – iMET - with tours and events.

Meanwhile, with more families moving in, we have been hosting and organising more events to bring new residents together, and connect them with neighbours. The Easter Egg trail and a pet-focussed event with Wood Green Animal Shelter involved over 100 people, while April also saw our first foray into “pop-up restaurants” with a Greek food and quiz night at Ermine Street Church Academy.

Rebecca Britton, Communities and Partnerships for Urban&Civic said “It has been great to see not just the new faces of residents, but friends from the Stukeleys, Alconbury and Huntingdon join in these events. And we have so much more happening over the Summer – with plans for an outdoor cinema, and our Learning Festival.”

The development reached another milestone in April with the licensing of Reverend Rob Paddison as a Church of England Pioneer Minister serving Alconbury Weald. Rob moved into the development over Easter, with his wife and two children – who have both started at the School – and is looking forward to getting out and about to meet people in the coming weeks.

Alongside progress on site, the team have been focussing on the next phases of infrastructure, primarily working through a few last minute hitches which have delayed the start of the planned delivery of the Ermine Street enhancements. Alongside this, the deal was completed which will connect the site to the A141. This enables the plans for the Southern Gateway connection to come forward connecting Alconbury Weald directly to the north of Huntingdon. Rebecca added: “We have been driving the plans for this connection forward for many years, and we know many in the Stukeleys will be pleased to see this progress made. We still have some technical work to go through before we can bring forward a planning application for this connection, but with the Ermine Street Enhancement Scheme coming forward in the next few weeks, we hope we can start to deliver elements of the off-site investment, which will bring benefits across the wider area.”

For more information about any of the points raised above, or if you would like a tour of the development, please contact Rebecca or Steph on 01480 413141 or email rbritton@urbanandcivic.com. To get involved in the Festival of Learning contact Victoria: Victoria.denny-morley@urbanandcivic.com.

Eltisley Road, Waresley, Nr SANDY, SG19 3BS

This is a free house having been bought from Green King by the current owners last Summer. It had been closed for over 12 months previously. The Historic England register notes the following; "Grade 2 listed. Mid 1850's Inn. Brick, rendered with a plain tile roof. One gault brick end stack with two shafts set diagonally and one stack and an additional stack to the north. Entry is via one of the two storey wings, this wing having the Duncombe coat of arms in the brickwork".

We visited on a Tuesday lunch time at 13-00hrs. Upon walking into the pub we were greeted by the barmaid with the words, "are you eating with us today Sir and have you booked?" thus a cold hand crept around my heart and so it might. `Free House` it stated outside; it might as well said `restaurant masquerading as a free house with `A` cask ale`. Note just the one! The good news was that it did have a roaring fire but that was at one end of a large open plan bar/seating area so that only the "ladies who lunched" near it had the benefit. The pub had around 60 covers.

I was further disheartened when given a pair of menus which had wooden covers; opps "that's money" I thought and by Jove I was correct with the average cost of a dish being around the £13 mark. NOT the cosy village pub it gave lie to from the outside. Having said that the place was pin bright clean. The staff were very on the ball and pleasant and the food when it arrived was of excellent quality and of `trencher man` proportions.

The one real ale was `Doombar` and this was of average quality. However the bar had a good selection of European Lagers on draft and there was an indulgence by myself in a glass or two of the same; the Spanish Estrella being very good, bright and lively with a full flavour.

I had a crafty look at the lunch/dinner bookings diary (whilst backs were turned) and I have to say it was busy in the evenings with bookings and had what looked like a healthy trade in the latter end of the week at lunch times as well. In short it was a pub you could take your Mum to for a meal and she would be very impressed. For a couple of chaps looking for a few pints and a tad of banter; nope, you need to go elsewhere.

So in short would I go back? For myself the answer would be `No`. Having said that if you were caught short and in need of a pint there are a lot of worse places to hove up at But you may well be lonely at the bar!

Drink: 6 from 10 (Don't advertise "Real Ales" {Plural} and serve one!)

Mr Pernickety re-visits The Addison Arms at Glatton, Nr Sawtry PE28 5RZ

The last time I visited this establishment I ended up writing a very poor review indeed. This was last year, and I have stayed away from the Addison since. I was recently alerted to the fact that the pub had been sold and the new owners were not only local but had a good track record. Upon investigating I found the first thing they did was to shut the pub. It then underwent a thorough renovation inclusive of walls being moved and the main bar being opened up. I delayed my re-visit for some months after the renovations were complete to allow the new owners to bed in and the `fresh varnish` to wear off somewhat.

I visited on a Wednesday evening at around 19-30hrs. The first impression of a revamp was the car park which had been re fenced to give a safe garden area for visiting families with children. Very sensible. Upon opening the door into the interior, the change was immediate to the eye. Clean, spacious and with a great inclusive feel. The barmaid, (as it turned out one of the owners, Ruth) was all smiles and gave a fulsome greeting. At the time of our visit I counted ten people eating and I have to say the food was very good both in display, content and quantity. Excellent nosh and a cut above the normal pub grub you would expect. In truth the bar was not overly busy but I put that down to the timing of our visit; after the `early doors` brigade had gone and before the `after dinner` drinkers turned up. The thing that did stand out was a chap at the bar in a skirt. It would seem that a skirt was the normal mode of dress for this chap and I have to say it was of a delightful flowery pattern!

There were four real ales on tap with numerous keg ales and a multitude of bottled brews plus to my companions delight a proper pukka coffee machine to which she was immediately drawn being the driver. The ales on offer were all brewed locally such as the `Addison Ale` brewed by Digfield which was bright and full of flavour. The delight of our visit was the `Imperial Stout` on draught, brewed by the Angle brewery. It comes in at an impressive 8.9% so it is not one to be drunk without respect. That said upon quenching a half it was found to be a very full flavour but without the `treacly` feel that a lot of high percentage brews can have. Oh, what a delight. Several could have been drunk but sense ruled the head or she did!

All in all such a turnaround from my last visit. I fully recommend it especially for pensioners on a Tuesday lunchtime when two courses can be had for £10. Excellent.

Service: 9 from 10    Drink: 10 from 10    Food 8 from 10

Total 27 from 30 plus an extra point for the chap at the bar!!

Other fundraising totalled £600.01

Total income for the year £15,449.00

Total expenditure for the year £12,798.07

Total profit £4,301.34

Total reserves £18,694.45 in the current account and £2,089.78 in the second account.

5. Trustees' Report

Sarah Toyn summarised the year. The Village Hall has a healthy bank balance despite having lost some regular users, namely the Table Tennis Club, Slimming World and the Church of Jesus Christ and the Latter Day Saints.

Nicola Oldfield has been in touch with Urban & Civic about using their contractor Breheny who had donated 10 tonnes of gravel so that temporary repairs could be carried out to the car park to fill in the potholes. David Silsby was thanked for preparing the ground and actually filling the potholes and spreading the gravel. The disabled access and final repairs will be dealt with under the new WREN application.

The village hall held 3 main events this year. The first one was a picnic to celebrate the Queen's 90th birthday. This was a social event rather than a fundraiser and was enjoyed by those who attended. The Ceilidh and Hog Roast on 15th October was most enjoyable with live band and a delicious hog roasted by Andy Helme. Finally another Casino Night was held on 3rd December, this time with a Las Vegas theme and although less well attended than the one in February, a good time was had by all. Forthcoming events this year are: Open Gardens planned for 8/9 July and a Jazz Cream Tea with Malcolm Talbot's quintet on Sunday 16th July. This will be followed by a Fashion Show on Monday 2nd October and a Scottish Ceilidh on Friday 1st December. Sarah said that any ideas for other events would be gratefully received. The village hall did want to plan another musical event with the Over Players (similar to the Old Time Music Hall event previously run or show classics from musicals) and are waiting on their availability. Carol also pointed out that we would like put on a tea dance with Alconbury Step by Step Ballroom. They would demonstrate various dances and people could join in if they wished. A date will be set when they confirm their availability.

Ann Morris said she had been to a 40s night organised by the WI with a really good singer and suggested the village hall put on a 40s event. The committee had been considering this and agreed it was a good idea. Ann also said that she had visited family in Somerset and the village hall put on cinema screenings twice monthly, although she did think it worked there because they were quite isolated but in Huntingdon, there is a cineworld just up the road. Nicky Sly said it may be worth considering if the chairs were more comfortable – no-one was going to sit through a film on uncomfortable plastic chairs (replacement chairs may be an ideal for CIL funding – see below). [Post meeting note: Ann Morris also suggested running a Pimms Tent at Open Gardens – location to be decided]. Nicky suggested the village hall put on a kids' party as generally the events put on at the hall are for adults and some young families cannot get babysitters which is why they do not attend the events. Sarah pointed out that she brings her children to various village hall events and has done since her youngest was 5. Nicky said that the dinner dances at Christmas were for adults as there always used to be a kids' party as well and suggested a disco and food. Sarah asked if children would actually attend if a party was put on and what age range should it be aimed at? She also pointed out that there are children in the village but the vast majority do not take part in events, for example the flower show. Ann Morris said that perhaps the hall should run it as a loss leader for the community.

Grahame Bundy asked how many people held keys to the village hall. In his opinion, only the booking clerk and committee members should hold keys as it would appear that some key holders were coming and going as they pleased. In the past, all users had to collect the keys and return them. Janet Nunley agreed that on occasions she has cleaned or checked on the hall and then returned and found things had been moved and footprints as if someone had been there and yet there were no bookings. Grahame said that probably many past users still had keys that had never been handed back and the whole situation was a bit of a mess. Hilma had a list of key holders and read it out. The committee said they would review the position on keys and if necessary, they would have to change the locks to regain control of access to the hall.

Sarah then listed the repairs that have been carried out to the village hall in the last year. Barry Nunley organised for the kitchen shutter to be replaced and David Silsby had carried out internal repairs to the shed, boarding it out with 6mm ply and then cleared it out. David had also organised for the new blinds to be fitted to the windows, for the pat testing and had cleared the gutters and cleaned the fascia boards. His friend Derek, who is a roofer also replaced tiles and did some repairs to the roof free of charge. Sarah thanked David for all his work and also Janet and Barry Nunley who do an excellent job caretaking and carrying out various repairs, many of which they only charge for materials and not the labour involved. Sarah also thanked Hilma for taking the bookings and invoicing and also thanked the Committee for all their hard work and dedication throughout the year before, during and after the events to ensure that they ran smoothly.

Other repairs that need to be carried out would fall under the WREN application – such as fitting a disabled ramp access, replacing the weatherboarding and insulating the kitchen and stage areas. Sarah said that there was a possibility of applying for CIL funding for other items such as the chairs in the main hall and the committee room. There was a discussion on how uncomfortable the plastic chairs are for any length of time and that some have collapsed in the past and it is only a matter of chance that no-one has suffered a serious injury. The committee chairs are very old, the upholstery is falling apart and they are very heavy and cumbersome and not stackable.

Another suggestion was a water heater to replace the urn in the main kitchen. There was a discussion on where this could go and whether a hot water tap with reservoir underneath the sink would be more appropriate. It was felt that a hot water tap may be quite dangerous as it may be misused. The urn was discussed and Deanna said it is quite difficult to empty. Nicky explained the best way to do it and Carol pointed out that in the past an urn exploded in the committee room (David point out ours had been pat tested). The committee agreed to look into the best solution.

6. Appointed members of the Committee

It was proposed that: Nicola Oldfield represents the Heritage Group; Iain Shaw represents the Flower Show Committee and Sarah Toyn represents the WI.

No other nominations were received.

7. Election of 4 community members

No new members volunteered to join the committee but all existing members agreed to stand again for another year.

8. Election of Secretary

It was proposed by Iain Shaw and seconded by Carol Buttercase that Nicola Oldfield continues as Secretary.

9. Election of Treasurer

It was proposed by Sarah Toyn and seconded by Iain Shaw that Helen Silsby continues as Treasurer.

10. AOB

Deanna Strange said that the village hall should advertise itself more.

Jan Sly asked when the website had last been updated as it still showed that the Table Tennis Club was running at the hall and they had left some time ago. Carol said that Michelle Gasson is working on the website and that it would be updated. Deanna asked why the Table Tennis Club had left the village hall and Sarah explained that it was so the club could expand. The village hall could only hold 4 tables, whereas Ermine Street Church Academy could hold 6-8. Deanna asked how much the school charged and Sarah replied it was £10 an hour with a discount for regular users. There followed a discussion regarding the village hall rates and charging for setting up time. The committee are in the process of reviewing the hall rates as they have not been reviewed since 2010.

11. Date of next AGM
