Letter from Terry Pinner, Chairman of the Parish Council

By now you have probably seen through your door a fly sheet, printed in green, promoting the three Independent District Councillors - Tom Sanderson, Shaun Burton, and Sally Smith.

The second item on the fly sheet is - discussing the "pocket park" which will be created in the playing field at Great Stukeley. The District Council has no input at all in the re-development of the park.

The whole program is being spearheaded by the Stukeleys Parish Council which both Shaun Burton and Sally Smith are members of. The only connection the District Council will have will be when the Parish applies for change of use to a park from a football field. The whole scheme will be funded by the Parish with C I L money paid from the development of Alconbury Weald. We have already let the contract out to a design firm, once we have a design the work will then be let out to a hard and soft landscape contractor with a clause in the contract for a period of years maintenance.

The play equipment in both Little and Great Stukeley has now been re• opened for use after the Covid 19 virus. Both areas will be sanitised once a month by our contractors. The chemical used will be the same as is used in airports, railway stations and places where people congregate.

We have a slight problem with the swings in both villages as they tend to get fouled with bird droppings, birds sitting on the overhang bars which holds the swings. In the past we have had protective measures in place to protect from birds, these had to be removed in case a child climbed along the bars.

Please, when people are using the parks would they take their rubbish home to keep our environment friendly and clean. When people walk their dogs and are picking up the foulings in plastic bags, can they refrain from throwing them in the hedges and also please stop depositing them in household bins outside of people's properties (which is happening).

Lastly, The Parish Council is looking for a handy person to do odd jobs inside the villages i.e. painting seats. cleaning the war memorials, litter picking where necessary etc.

Terry Pinner

Chairman of The Stukeleys Parish Council

GREAT STUKELEY VILLAGE HALL

Covoravirus Pandemic

The Management Committee met recently to review the latest Government guidelines. All things considered, we have decided to keep the hall closed for the time being to keep our community safe. So for now the hall will remain closed until the end of September. We will continue to review the situation on a monthly basis.

Refurbishment Works

We are however pleased to report that our contractors have been able to complete the work to refurbish the Committee Room. As you can see from the photos, it looks very smart indeed! We just need to replace the old tub chairs and the square tables.

We are offering the tub chairs for a donation of £10 each. Please contact Helen or Nicola if you are interested.

The floor in the main hall has also had a facelift and the chairs have all been moved to the end cupboard for easier access.

On-line Booking System

We are looking for someone to manage our on-line booking system once things get back to normal. If you could spare a few hours each week to helps us, please get in touch.

New Projects

While the hall is not being used, we are taking the opportunity to do what we can to improve it for everyone. Our next project will be to resurface the car park.

We hope to welcome you back to the hall soon. In the meantime we will keep you up to date with our progress here and on our website:

The EXAM Question

By Bob Hulstrom

It's reassuring, in a way, to know that however bad a week you've had, it's nothing compared to Gavin Williamson's exam fiasco,

When you read around the subject a little bit, you quickly get into Algorithm Land and you'll read all sorts of people saying that the algorithm used to assign grades failed. But from what I can glean, that is not what happened. The algorithm was sound and did exactly what it was expected to do.

What was wrong here was way further back up the chain.

The problems came with what the policymakers (whether in Ofqual or central government) asked the algorithm to do. The maths was fine. But what the algorithm was set to achieve was NOT to give a satisfying grading experience to the tens of thousands of teenagers going through the process. It was set to avoid grade inflation from overly optimistic teachers and to ensure that the societal stratification of results generally seen in previous years was, for the most part, replicated. Consider this: The teacher that wants their students grades to look good so inflated them so their own standing goes up because of how well they taught is reflected in their own light for the coming year and so in turn how that reflects on their salaries or could the chance to "work off some scores" on students who have frankly been a pain in the backside for the past two or three years by downgrading their predicted results too tempting for some. Or am I just being a cynic?, or just being human?

Within any large-scale exercise like this, there will always be margin cases at the far end of the statistical playing field; that's normal. The real test is whether the algorithm achieved what it was trying to do for the majority of results, and it did.

The problem, once again, is that what the algorithm was asked to do is unpalatable in the cold light of day by the mass of the public and especially those with whinging teenagers because they do not understand the bigger picture AND THAT is what we trust those we elect to rule over us to do. What we tend to forget is that they too are human and perhaps we should reflect on that ourselves and take a pinch of hubris with our tea?

However whichever way you look at it I still think the teenagers of today are a pain and should be shot at dawn!!

Coronavirus-Related Scams
How to Protect Yourself

Criminals are exploiting the COVID-19 pandemic to try and get their hands on your money and personal information. To date, Action Fraud has received reports from 2,378 victims of Coronavirus-related scams, with the total losses reaching over £7 million.

How you can protect yourself from Coronavirus-related scams:

There are some simple steps you can take that will protect you from the most common Coronavirus-related scams. Here's what need to do:

1 - Watch out for scam messages

Your bank, or other official organisations, won't ask you to share personal information over email or text. If you receive an email you're not quite sure about, forward it to the Suspicious Email Reporting Service (SERS): report@phishing.gov.uk

2 - Shopping online

If you're making a purchase from a company or person you don't know and trust, carry out some research first, for example, by checking to see if others have used the site and what their experience was. If you decide to go ahead with the purchase, use a credit card if you have one, other payment providers may not provide the same protection.

3 - Unsolicited calls and browser pop-ups offering tech support

Never install any software, or grant remote access to your computer, as a result of a cold call. Remember, legitimate organisations would never contact you out of the blue to ask for financial details such as your PIN or full banking password.

NHS Test and Trace scams:

The NHS Test and Trace service plays an important role in the fight against coronavirus and it's vital the public have confidence and trust in the service. However, we understand the concerns people have about the opportunity for criminals to commit scams.

What you need to know:

Contact tracers will only call you from the number 0300 013 5000. Anyone who does not wish to talk over the phone can request the NHS Test and Trace service to send an email or text instead, inviting them to log into the web-based service.

All text or emails sent by NHS Test and Trace will ask people to sign into the contact tracing website and will provide you with a unique reference number. We would advise people to type the web address <https://contact-tracing.phe.gov.uk> directly into their browser, followed by the unique reference number given to you, rather than clicking on any link provided in the message.

The NHS Test and Trace service will never:

- ask you to dial a premium rate number to speak to them (for example, those starting 09 or 087)
- ask you to make any form of payment or purchase a product or any kind
- ask for any details about your bank account
- ask for your social media identities or login details, or those of your contacts
- ask you for any passwords or PINs, or ask you to set up any passwords or PINs over the phone
- ask you to download any software to your PC or ask you to hand over control of your PC, smartphone or tablet to anyone else
- ask you to access any website that does not belong to the government or NHS

If you think you have been a victim of fraud, please report it to Action Fraud at <https://www.actionfraud.police.uk> or by calling 0300 123 2040. If you live in Scotland, please report directly to Police Scotland by calling 101.

PRESS RELEASE

Nerijus Turskis

Date: 13 August 2020

Man jailed for growing cannabis following tip off from the community

A man has begun a 16-month jail sentence for growing cannabis following a tip off from the community.

Police were notified of a possible cannabis factory in Kimbolton Road, Hail Weston on 16 June by a group of volunteers who act as the force's eyes and ears and report suspicious activity.

Officers from the St Neots neighbourhood team acted on the intelligence and discovered 249 cannabis plants growing with a potential street value of up to £209,160.

Yesterday (12 August), Nerijus Turskis, 29, of Kimbolton Road, Hail Weston was sentenced to 16 months in prison at Cambridge Crown Court after previously pleading guilty to producing cannabis.

PC Alan Armstrong said: "This is great example of the police and public working together. We can't be everywhere and we rely on people in our communities being our eyes and ears. If you suspect something isn't right, it more than likely isn't.

"Thanks to the information received we were able to prevent these drugs from making it to the streets and put Turskis before the courts."

If you suspect drug activity in your area, report it to us here

Dear Sir,

Re. Immigrants from Calais etc

Obviously, our dear French cousins are unable to defend their beaches now, just as was the case in 1939 and 1940.

Apparently, they cannot guard them sufficiently to prevent several hundred poor homeless migrants, living nearby, to cross to Britain, from their coast.

This being so they must surely allow British forces to be based there, to patrol the area, and prevent people launching themselves into the Channel and into danger, towards UK.

If our dear French cousins can't do it, surely, they must allow the British Army and Navy, based there, to do the job, at which they are themselves so apparently inept. The British Enclave at Calais, mistakenly abandoned in 1558 as a result of French infamous attack, should be restored immediately, and reoccupied.

And it's no use British Ministers saying, we are having discussions, or the matter is under review. All that seems to produce is our dear politicians going to Paris, having a good lunch, and coming home again, with full stomachs, but empty hands. This situation is a French Farce, without the comedy.

And dear Lord Dobbs ,or Dobbie , or whatever , says all his sympathy is with the immigrants, they have seen horrible sights whence they have come, and suffered ,and we should help them to be here ,not block their attempts . His attitude is, let them all come. Well maybe that makes his Lordship feel better, but I'm not sure it's an answer to the problem.

So, are we then encourage entry to this country, to all who have seen « horrible sights, and suffered? Are we bound to accept all the third world, because they are in that situation - pull down all boundaries, and accept all the poor and underprivileged of the world?

In that case we would be overwhelmed, and thus unable to help, not only our own population but any others.

These bleeding heart liberal minded well-wishers are not always the answer!

Regards from Great Stukeley,
Philip Hobson.

Public worship is starting again. For the moment, we've got a temporary pattern, as we find our way back into doing worship in a new way.

September 6th 9.30 am Holy Communion in St Bartholomew's

September 13th 9.30 am Holy Communion in St Martin's

September 27th 9.30 am Service with baptism, St Bartholomew's

Things will be a bit different. In order to keep everyone safe we have to put certain measures in place at the moment. People will be expected to wear face masks before entering the building unless exempt. You are asked to sanitize your hands on entering and also on leaving the building. Please observe social distancing. There won't be any singing, or coffee after the service. At Holy Communion services, the congregation cannot receive the wine currently. Things will change, but not for a while.

St Bartholomew's Church is open for individual prayer on Saturdays and Wednesdays from 10.00 am – 4.00pm.

St Martin's Church is open for individual prayer by arrangement with the churchwardens.
